

City of Ljubljana
City Administration

Mayor's Cabinet

Office for Public Relations

Adamič-Lundrovo nabrežje 2
1000 Ljubljana, Slovenia
phone: +386 1 306 12 88
fax: +386 1 306 10 21
glavna.pisarna@ljubljana.si
www.ljubljana.si

Press release

Ljubljana. For you.

Ljubljana – European Green Capital 2016 has launched its new website www.greenljubljana.com.

Web communication plays a key role in presenting the title European Green Capital 2016. The aim of the website www.greenljubljana.com is to encourage as many people as possible to co-create with us a green society and at the same time to learn about the activities and achievements of the City of Ljubljana. The website is also adapted for people with disabilities.

On the website you can find out why Ljubljana received the title European Green Capital 2016, get acquainted with green facts, follow green events or read interesting and educational articles in the column Blog. As we are aware of the significance of responsible and environment-friendly activities, we would like to put the spotlight on the section Green Yourself where anyone can make small changes that contribute to the improvement of the quality of life in Ljubljana.

The visitors of the website are invited to actively take part in the campaign. You can document your green pledges on Facebook or Instagram page of the City of Ljubljana and publish them on social media by using the hashtag #ljforyou or #greencapital2016. The photos will be published on the website as well.

